

Oxfam Guelph performs street theatre involving the marriage of the bottled water industry to Harper in order to convey their message for the need to create a national water policy

Andrea Harden, Bottled Water Campaigner with Polaris Institute and Mike Naggy, Wellington Water Watchers at a workshop on bottled water, part of the Guelph Students for Environmental Change's Water Awareness Week

Zoe Barrett-Wood, Guelph Students for Environmental Change with Andrea Harden, Bottled Water Campaigner with Polaris Institute

Oxfam Guelph group

Tower of consumption built by Oxfam Guelph and the Guelph Students for Environmental Change, both groups participated in the day of action during their Water Awareness Week